

Divine Union Codes

Course Description

The divine union course is a co-creation by Natalie, who created the Seraphine's Code and Ilaria, who runs a spiritual coaching business and a cosmetic brand business.

My part is a journey of guided meditations that need to be followed in the correct order. The journey guides you through the wounding that prevents you from stepping into the energetic dress of your higher self. These wounds are held in our inner child, our ancestral line and effect the energy we live in. We remove the blockages from entering the frequency of your soul and move the soul's frequency into the energetic nodes of your body. This way you change the vibration of your being at a constancy. Once your soul is expressed in the 3D-reality, you embody the higher self in the physical vessel, you draw in the opportunities you deserve and manifest the life your soul longs for - this also includes your romantic partner and the soul-mate friends that resonate with you on the same vibe of energy.

The moment, your soul-partner enters your life, is the moment, you feel truly home. You feel seen and truly honored in who you are at the core of your soul. This person can only enter your life when you truly stand in the wholeness of who you are.

My meditation series guides you through the wounding of where you do not - yet - stand in the truth of who you are, in the sovereignty of who you are. By removing traumas, attachment wounding, heart breaks, you start stepping into the vitality of your soul. We guide you through the wounding of both your masculine and feminine side. Until you are ready for an internal marriage.

Below you see the list of guided meditations. This is a pattern-allocation to the divine from the inside out and such includes our adult expression, our inner child, our feminine side and our masculine side. Within this course you allocate time to your energetic body to resolve your imbalances that prevent you from a divine union that will allow your soul to shine through all pillars of your life.

- 7.Honoring the divine masculine from the feminine side. - In current collective consciousness, the masculine is in fact very depleted in receiving love. The masculine are very conditioned to receive blame, shame and energy that is attachment rather than love (coming from a whole place). We reverse this pattern with this exercise.
- 8.Aligning the inner child to the energy of a divine father, a divine masculine. Our inner children are (often, but not always) conditioned to the energy of a wounded masculine who has been conditioned by the patriarchy. Our inner child needs to feel comfortable to a divine masculine energy in order to be in a relationship with a divine masculine.
- 9.Rainbow Light Body - Light Transmission. - As the current consciousness is primed to attachment rather than soul-love, we require a higher energy body to actually hold this energy inside of us.
